telent is a technology services business that delivers high-quality communication and network support services to telecommunications operators, large enterprises and a number of public sector organisations. These include the maintenance, management and assimilation of mission-critical 'bluelight' networks and integration services to support the implementation of Command, Control, Communications and Information (C3I) systems, demanding 99.999% reliability.

With our experience and expertise, telent is helping to improve response times and contain costs with a range of voice and data solutions. These cover managed terminal services for hand-portable and in-vehicle installations, command and control integration, the management of outsourced information and Communications Technologies (ICT) with Merseyside Fire, and turnkey projects, such as the design, build and support of a resilient emergency network for National Firelink/O<sub>2</sub> Airwave.

With the company's commitment to Firelink and FiReControl, we are proud to be associated with the UK Firefighters Sailing Challenge in both 2007 and 2008 and the charities this sponsorship will ultimately benefit.
